

Alison Allerson

About Me:

I grew up in Corby Northants and moved to Coventry to do a degree in Urban and Regional Planning at Lanchester Polytechnic.

My Experience:

I worked for Coventry City Council for 28 years, as a Development Control officer and then in Neighbourhood Regeneration. I was chair of Coventry's Domestic Violence Partnership for 4 years. In 2003 I moved to Sandwell where I was the Executive Director of the Greets Green New Deal for Communities Partnership until 2010

I have always been active in my local communities and served on a number of voluntary organisations (School Governor, Parochial Church Council etc.). Since my retirement I currently serve as a director of a Credit Union in Sandwell and am a member of Soroptimists International (Tamworth).

Why I volunteer:

I continue to volunteer because I enjoy working with organisations and improving their effectiveness, and I hope to bring these skills to the SARAC team.
